VA investigating Hoffman real estate deals

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — Federal charges are expected to be filed in connection with real estate deals made by Carl Hoffman, the man Jack G. Bruce last week was convicted of murdering.

The Veterans' Administration expects to file charges with the U.S. attorney in East St. Louis within the next two weeks, said Ed Slagle, an inspector with the VA's office in Kansas City, Mo. Charges may be filed against Hoffman's former real estate company, and a local mortgage company, a Springfield bank,

'Two men had just gotten out of prison, I mean a month, and they got a loan.'

Ed Slagle,

veterans and veterans' employers, Slagle said Wednesday.

Veterans who were not entitled to loans received them, Slagle said. From April to December 1983, the VA was tapped for seven bad loans by Hoffman, Slagle said. An investigation on two of the homes is complete and shows the VA lost close to $45,000 on them, he said.

"Carl Hoffman was the real estate agent and he falsified some of the loans," Slagle said.

In some cases, falsifications were so obvious that those who signed loan information had to know it, he said.

"If you look at some of these files you'd be amazed at what got through," Slagle said. "Two men had just gotten out of prison, I mean a month, and they got a loan."

Records show that one man had recently been released from prison but loan information showed he'd had a job for 12 years, Slagle said. Some employers falsified information, and

Raise given to Warfield

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A 25 percent pay raise for Superintendent of Streets Marjorie Warfield was unanimously approved by the City Council on Tuesday.

The aldermen increased the salary $7,000 from $28,000 to $35,000 a year starting May 1. "It's a big job here," Warfield said Wednesday. "I think it was justified."

Sixth Ward Alderman Woody Moad supported the pay increase because Warfield hasn't had a raise in four years, he said. Warfield won't get another raise for four years.

"These people should be paid for the responsibility they have," Moad said.

The increase was needed "regardless who's there," said Mayor Von Dee Cruse. The superintendent of streets' pay, Cruse said, should be comparable with the salaries of the fire and police chiefs, who each make $35,843 yearly.

Though not against the raise, 10th Ward Alderman Jeff Worthen the increase was a "big jump."

"I don't believe going up 25

Customer complaints wrapped up in cable

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — The war of words with Cencom Cable Associates Inc. is hot, with the Illinois Attorney General's Office being asked to investigate consumer fraud charges.

Dick Allen, Madison County state's attorney, said Tuesday he consulted with a representative of the attorney general's office about contract and service complaints. No other action has been taken.

People complained Cencom isn't honoring contract they made with South Western Cable Television, Allen said. South Western operated in this area prior to the Cencom buyout.

The charge surprised Bob Owen, a Cencom vice president, but he said Cencom purchased only South Western's assets.

"We did not purchase any of its liabilities," he said. The Granite City Elks Lodge was told by Cencom that money paid to watch Cardinal baseball games would be returned, Allen said. The lodge wants the service.

In a third complaint, Charlie

Trustee would pull plug on Cencom Cable

PONTIAC BEACH — Complaints were aimed at Cencom Cable Associates Inc. representatives by Village Trustee Lou Whitsell on Tuesday.

Whitsell blasted Cencom's PD-3 device, which he said doesn't allow him to use his remote control. Others in the audience agreed they do not like the way Cencom service has decreased flexibility in taping programming.

A Cencom spokesman explained the PD-3 device will allow residents to add services without having to wait for a company representative to come to their homes, but Whitsell was not convinced the device means better service.

"I am in favor of revoking this franchise," Whitsell said.

There was applause from the audience of more than 100 village residents.

No action was taken by the board.

No grounds to check ticket-fixing charge

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

PONTIAC BEACH — There's no basis to investigate a ticket-fixing allegation against Police Chief Chet Bailey, said Randy Rushing, an agent with the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

County prosecutor Dick Allen gave the opinion that there is no basis to pursue the case against Bailey, Rushing said.

"It's his opinion that it's (ticket-fixing) not a criminal violation," Rushing said.

The charge was brought against Bailey by a former patrolman, Roger Smith, who said he resigned because tickets were being fixed. The decision not to investigate the case is not surprising and did serve a purpose, Smith said.

"I got my say in," Smith said. "I can't say I'm disappointed in that. I did what I thought was

Board to review positions

By Dave Gonsell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The School Board instructed Superintendent Gib Walsley to review administrative job descriptions.

The move will help the board determine how much of a raise to give administrators this year and will help the board to decide whether a "realigning" of some administrative positions needs to be made, said board member Dave Partney.

Partney said some administrative salaries have not kept pace with added responsibilities some administrators faced as a result of major District 9 layoffs several years ago.

"Our administrative pay level has not been fair to some. It's not equitable," Partney said.

Raises or salary adjustments have not yet been given to District 9 administrators this year. Administrators are the last group of school employees to have their salaries reviewed because of union negotiations.

At their Tuesday meeting, the board voted to give non-certified, non-union staff a 5.5 percent raise. The employees include executive secretaries, school

Free book vote April 7

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — Voters will be asked in the April 7 election to rescind a 1979 referendum which established textbook rental fees for students.

If approved, the measure would eliminate textbook fees for all students, starting in September. The Board of Education did amend school policy last October by agreeing that any student who is eligible to participate in the district's free lunch program could receive books without charge.

The Board of Education appeared to be eligible for free or reduced cost lunches, Superintendent of Schools Robert Vickers estimated at an earlier meeting.

In the 1985-86 school year, a total of 81.6 percent of the Venice student population was determined to be from low-income families, according to the state School Report Card.

The same report disclosed that districts throughout Illinois averaged 23.7 percent of their student enrollment in the low income group.

Voters are being asked to rescind the fees because the district's financial condition has improved and collection of fees has proved increasingly difficult each year, Vickers said.

From time to time, board members and school principals have questioned the value of continuing book fees, noting the policy of not allowing a child to take home textbooks because fees were not paid was detrimental to the student's educational progress.

A referendum eliminating fees is required since voters approved a measure making pupils pay a rental fee for textbooks in 1979.

Books will remain the property of the school district and, even if voters agree to rescind fees, students will be required to pay for any lost or damaged textbooks, Vickers said.

Currently, kindergarten and special education pupils pay $8 a year, elementary students pay $12 and high school students pay $16.

Quality Sand permit rejected

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

PONTIAC BEACH — Board members sent Quality Sand's special use permit request back to the Zoning Board of Appeals on Tuesday.

The board further said it can't find approval supposedly given to Quality Sand for two mobile home parks.

"We may go so far as to say the board further said it can't find approval supposedly given to Quality Sand for two mobile home parks," said Quality Sand owner Don Peacock said Monday.

Residents last week said mobile homes to be added to their homes, a pond would endanger children and traffic would increase on Marigold Drive.

Peacock said the property once had a sewage lagoon on it behind the subdivision homes. He said he removed the five-acre lagoon, the stench and weeds. Mobile homes would not devalue the subdivision

Peacock answers critics

PONTIAC BEACH — Residents near the proposed 110-acre mobile home site shouldn't be concerned, Quality Sand owner Don Peacock said Monday.

Residents last week said mobile homes to be added to their homes, a pond would endanger children and traffic would increase on Marigold Drive.

Peacock said the property once had a sewage lagoon on it behind the subdivision homes. He said he removed the five-acre lagoon, the stench and weeds. Mobile homes would not devalue the subdivision home spaces except by special use permits.

Because he wanted to add to the 200 mobile homes, Peacock said he followed the requirement to get the special use permit.

Also supporting Peacock's belief that he has zoning for two mobile home parks is a letter, obtained by the Press-Record, sent by Mayor Glen Wilson to Peacock.

"The Village of Pontiac Beach has approved Plan #1, Plan #2 or a combination of the two plans for the Quality Sand Proposal. The Village will pass the Subdivision Ordinance whenever you homes, Peacock said.

Concerning the pond, Peacock said it's 70 feet deep in places, but as safe as other fishing and boating developments.

"The lake is deep," he said. "Anything over 2 feet deep is deep enough to drown in. The Lake of the Ozarks is a whole lot deeper than that."

Marigold Drive would not be the only entrance to the mobile home park, Peacock said there would be three others. When completed, the $1 million development could be entered at Reveille Lane at Illinois 111, at Reveille Lane at Illinois 162, and at a site at Illinois 162 and a railroad crossing, he said.

are ready to have it go into effect," states the letter, signed by Wilson.

"Let him (Peacock) come back to us and prove that he did have approval for a mobile home park," Whitsell said Tuesday. "We don't have any record of that."

Jensen said there is concern that all property owners adjacent to the site were not notified about the hearing and that the way each ZBA member voted was not announced by the ZBA.

The next meeting of the zoning board has not been set.

Breakfast Saturday at St. Elizabeth

The Boy Scouts of America has an honor camping society known as the Order of the Arrow (OA).

OA members are experienced campers who have shown exceptional camping skills and are revered by other scouts.

OA members are elected by their peers. They must be First Class Scout, be proficient in camping and have 15 nights of overnight/weekend camping; six nights of which must be continuous. OA is a boy's society run by the boys for boys with an adult advisor. Adults also can be elected to OA by their peers.

The organization also raises money for camperships. These camperships are available to boys who are able to go to camp, but cannot afford to. Camperships pay for one half of the required fees. Money for these camperships are raised mainly through the yearly Order of the Arrow pancake and sausage breakfasts held each year.

The Unitah District's OA breakfast will be held March 29 at St. Elizabeth's Church, 2300 Fonton Road. Pancakes, sausage, biscuits and gravy will be served from 7:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Grand opening held at college

Mayor Von Dee Cruse and more than 350 visitors welcomed Sanford-Brown Business College to Madison County.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony gave an official grand opening to the newest Sanford-Brown campus located at the intersection of Interstate 27 and Illinois 3. The 80 students welcomed the guests and gave demonstrations in word processing, transcription equipment and computers.

"Sanford-Brown will provide a vital service to the Tri-Cities area," said RC Bush, executive vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. The chamber ambassadors were on hand for the ribbon-cutting ceremony as well as six radio stations: WGNW, WINU, KSHI, KADI, KIX, KITT, local newspapers and photographers.

"We enthusiastically welcome Sanford-Brown Business College to this side of the river," said

East Alton-Wood River High School accepted first place in the "Name Our Campus" contest. High school juniors and seniors from 10 area schools selected "Sanford-Brown Business College — Madison County Campus."

Second place went to Alton High School, third place to Collinsville Senior High, and participation awards went to Triad, Worden, Granite City, Livingston, Madison, Highland and Venice senior high schools.

The 119-year-old college will begin its summer session in late May. Limited seats are still available in the day and evening classes. Interested persons may call 931-0300 or visit Sanford-Brown at 617 W. Chain of Rocks Road, formerly the Carpenters Union Hall.

Volunteers get honored

Business representatives and community volunteers from St. Louis and the surrounding area who have made outstanding contributions to the lives of people with disabilities were honored March 11 in Collinsville by the Illinois Rehabilitation Community Jobs Now Network.

This award is presented to persons not employed in a rehabilitation profession but who have contributed to the field.

Also honored was Dan Byrd, manager of the Schnuck's Supermarket in Granite City, who shared the Open Doors Award as an employer who has created an accessible working environment and enhanced the careers of people with disabilities.

More than 200 people attended the dinner and awards ceremony to hear Paul Galligos, Department of Rehabilitation Services associate deputy director and KSDK-TV anchor person, Karen Foss, honor area employers, and community leaders for their contributions to the rehabilitation field.

Late penalty waived on some sewer bills

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A late penalty on some commercial sewer bills, that were due on President's Day, will be waived.

The City Council approved a suggestion by 5th Ward Alderman Jake Varadian to waive the late penalty on bills received Feb. 17, the day after the holiday. The waiver will affect between 40 and 50 accounts, said Comptroller Joe Miklovic.

Both the post office and the City Hall were closed Feb. 16, due to the holiday, Varadian said. This caused the payments to reach City Hall the following day, he said.

There's plans, Varadian said, to bring an ordinance before the council to prevent this from happening again.

The due date should have been changed to Feb. 17 because of the holiday, Miklovic said.

By waiving the penalty, 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer said the council is interfering with Treasurer Nick Petrillo.

"If he (Petrillo) wants to waive the penalty, fine," Whitmer said.

Petrillo wrote a letter to Clerk Bob Stevens and billing supervisor Mary Schaffner requesting the waiver, Miklovic said.

Seventh Ward Alderman Mike Modrusil asked why the council didn't receive a copy of the letter.

White Haven, designated a National Historic Landmark, is located off 10 acres off Grant Road north of Gravois Road.

Refreshments, including Missouri wines, will be served in the huge barn Grant built during his presidency. Visitors may walk around the grounds and see the outbuildings. A brief history of the house will be presented upon entering, and questions will be answered as guests stroll.

The $10-per-person, tax-deductible donation includes member-

Tickets are limited and advance reservations may be made by sending a check to Save Grant's White Haven Inc., P.O. Box 230095, St. Louis, Mo. 63123.

Indicate which day you would like to attend and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope for return of tickets. Tickets may also be purchased the days of the open house.

The names of those making advance reservations will be entered in a drawing. The prize is a private afternoon reception for the winner and nine guests at White Haven. The drawing will be held at 2 p.m. April 12.

White Haven was purchased Dec. 22, 1968 by St. Louis County and the Missouri Department of Natural Resources.

Madison Secretaries hear Ed Besserman

Ed Besserman, a representative of Mercer Mortuaries Inc., was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Future Secretaries Association at Madison High School.

In his capacity as an employee in charge of survival benefits for clients of the mortuary, Besserman spoke on this topic. He told the group when a death occurs in a family, the ones who are taking care of plans and legal matters are sometimes the younger members of the family.

In addition, the speaker told the group that the local mortician can assist in planning and helping a person contact the right people involving legal matters. Recent changes relative to joint ownership and dependent responsibility were discussed.

Besserman commented on Social Security and veteran's benefits and noted these are subject to change and the funeral director will assist in contacting the right people if help is needed to find the proper information. The speaker concluded with the comment that all morticians throughout the country and other parts of the world work together to provide people with the kind of service wanted at a time when people are least prepared to face this need.

Alanna Browley, chapter vice president, presided at the meeting and reports were given by Vicki Morgan the corresponding secretary. All members were reminded to turn in all monies from the February fund raising project.

Helen Geizelmann, from the Tri-City Chapter of Professional Secretaries International, invited the group to attend the annual banquet in April at Sonny & Char's Restaurant in Collinsville.

The next chapter meeting is set for April 7 at the high school.

Man annoyed about bus traffic

GRANITE CITY — Bi-State bus traffic on State Street is causing problems with some neighborhood residents.

Norman Alexander, 2337 State St., told the City Council Tuesday the buses drive between 25 and 35 mph down his street. A shift worker at Granite City Steel, Alexander said the noise from the buses sometimes wakes him up.

The bus traffic, Alexander said, has also caused cracks in his home and other houses in his neighborhood.

"We don't want those buses," he said. Alexander said he has called the police several times concerning the bus traffic. He suggested the buses use other streets, such as Madison Avenue.

"If I have to move my bed or stay car in the middle of the street, I'll have to," Alexander said.

Grant to be used in Granite City

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Southwestern Illinois was awarded a grant of $3,000 from the St. Louis Community Foundation.

The foundation is a channel for philanthropic giving that serves to better the St. Louis metropolitan area.

The grant will be used in 1987 by Big Brothers/Big Sisters to support the opening of a satellite office in Granite City. The grant was provided by income earned from the F. William Weinheimer Fund. Weinheimer was the son of pioneer residents of Highland.

Company wins award

RC Contracting, Granite City, has won an "Award for Outstanding Performance" from the Vinyl Window and Door Institute.

The annual award is for the exceptional use of vinyl windows and doors supplied by members of the Institute. It was announced March 24 at the VWD's annual meeting in Miami, Fla.

The winner in the non-residential category was chosen on the basis of imaginative design, functionality and quality of workmanship. Judges also consider "project details that underscore an entry's merits, such as how the use of vinyl windows solved a particular design or function problem."

The institute, a national trade association of vinyl window and door manufacturers and suppliers, issues the award in recognition of companies and individuals for their outstanding work in residential and non-residential projects.

Luke 9:25... "And he said unto them. Where is your faith?"

This was the question Jesus asked his disciples when they were about to perish in a boat. They became very afraid when the storm came up and they thought they might die. He said unto them, "Where is your faith?" Have you asked yourself that question? Where is YOUR faith?

It is appointed unto man once to die. We are all going to have to come to grips with this fact sooner or later. Where we have our faith will make the difference in where we spend eternity. Some people have faith in themselves, some in the doctrines of great men, and some have faith in wealth.

Many today have faith in science and it's teaching. Where is your faith? If your faith is in Jesus, the Son of God, then you will spend eternity in heaven with him. He has promised this in His Word, the Bible. Ask Him for faith today.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT, DAMAGE CHARGES FILED

David L. Smith, 29, agreed to leave the home his estranged wife, Mary F. Smith, 904 Kirkpatrick Homes, shortly after midnight, March 21, but returned about 20 minutes later and was charged with criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct. Law enforcement recognition event

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Law enforcement officers from area police departments will be honored at Law Enforcement Recognition Dinner on Monday, May 18.

Illinois Attorney General Neil Hartigan will be guest speaker at the gala event, scheduled to take place at St. Gregory's Hall on West Pontoon Road. The celebration is being held in conjunction with National Law Enforcement Recognition Week under sponsorship of the Crime Prevention and Awareness Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

"We want to say thank you for the often thankless job of protecting life and property of residents and businesses in the Quad-City Area and also to promote a better understanding and improve relationships between the general public and their law enforcement officials," said Walter Milton, Crime Prevention Committee chairman.

Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 initiated an annual Law and Order Banquet some years ago and is co-sponsoring the 1987 dinner, according to Milton.

Law enforcement officers will be honored from Granite City, Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach and members of the Madison County Sheriff's Department that serve the Quad City Area.

Support is being sought from area industries, business firms, civic groups and service organizations who are being asked to send representatives to the dinner, plus sponsor police officers and their wives as guests, Milton said.

A steak dinner with all the accoutrements will be catered by Charlie's Restaurant. Dinner music and a cocktail hour also will be featured.

Tickets cost $15 per person and the number available will be limited, the chairman advised. Invitations and ticket order forms are being mailed, he said.

Businesses and organizations may reserve special tables, each seating eight persons, Milton said. Tables will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis, he added.

The public is invited and additional information may be obtained by calling the chamber office at 876-6400.

Towne West, at 4:03 p.m. March 19, Tucker said Blackwell ran into the street from behind a parked auto and ran into the side of her car.

ITEMS TAKEN FROM HOME

Edward Hogan, 4909 Kirkpatrick Homes, said March 19 a burglar entered his apartment, ransacked a closet and took a microwave oven and a pitcher and bowl set. Value of the items is $530.

AUTO BURGLARIZED ON GRAND

Ricky Singleton of 3223 Kilmarney Drive told police March 19 a burglar entered his auto while parked in a driveway at 2616 Grand Ave. Taken was a radar detector and a cassette tape. Value of the items is $205.

Ralph E. Hanner, 30, of 2124 Dewey Ave. and his brother, Ronald Q. Hanner, 27, of 1831 Edwardsville Road were arrested March 20 following a fight at Curt's Grill, 1623 Madison Ave.

Ralph Hanner allegedly struck two men during the altercation. He was charged with two counts of battery and one count of disorderly conduct. Ronald Hanner was charged with disorderly conduct.

WARRANT SERVED, CHARGE FILED

Robert E. Macke, 30, of 2440 E. 13th St. was served a 1986 warrant March 20 alleging he failed to appear at a hearing on a charge of possession of a look-alike substance.

Macke was also charged with disorderly conduct after he allegedly made obscene gestures toward officers at Curt's Grill, 1623 Madison Ave.

FIVE PEOPLE INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP

Five people were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center following a three-car mishap at 11:03 a.m. March 19 on 25th Street and Nameoki Road.

Injured were Christina Hitchcock, 29, and Jennifer Hitchcock, 5, both of 304 Kirkpatrick Homes; Mary A. Gamblin, 34, and Leah D. Gamblin, 5, of 2701 Sunset Drive; and Ronald Ely of rural Granite City.

Ely's vehicle collided with Mary Gamblin's car, causing her to collide with Christina Hitchcock's auto. Ely was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

The public is invited and additional information may be obtained by calling the chamber office at 876-6400.

Hawk's vehicle sustained considerable damage and was knocked several feet from its original parking spot, reports said. Shertz declined to take a breathalyzer test, authorities said.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED

Attorney At Law

The Illinois Secretary of State is proposing a plan to make penalties more severe for people who repeatedly drink and drive. Under the proposal, a person convicted of driving under the influence a second time would have his license revoked for five years. Third time offenders would lose their license for ten years. In addition, a third conviction would be prosecuted as a Class 4 felony rather than as a misdemeanor.

Are these proposed changes desirable? Most people would agree that a person who is convicted of driving under the influence a second or third time should be dealt with more severely than a first time offender. The real question is whether these stricter penalties will in fact get repeat offenders off the road.

It has been the experience of this office that many people who have their license revoked because of a DUI conviction continue to drive anyway. Some people who lose their driving privileges for this reason still have to get to work and meet various obligations in life. They often have to choose whether they will abide by the terms of the license revocation or whether they will continue to drive. It seems plausible that people who choose to drive despite their license being revoked will make this decision even if the period of revocation is five or ten years as proposed by the new legislation.

The only way to assure that repeat offenders will stay off the road is to put them in jail. Obviously, people will not drink and drive while they are incarcerated. Furthermore, the threat of imprisonment may be a sufficient deterrent to keep some drunk drivers off the road.

The problem with this approach, however, is that there are not enough jails in this state to accommodate people who repeatedly drink and drive. It should be noted that there are 35,000 Illinoisans with two or more DUI convictions. More jails will have to be built if individuals convicted of driving under the influence more than once are to be incarcerated.

A similar situation has been seen with fathers who continually refuse to pay child support. Most people would agree that fathers who repeatedly don't pay support should be put in jail. Once again, however, judges realize that our present jail facilities can only accommodate individuals convicted of serious crimes.

House committee OKs bill for area development

SPRINGFIELD — A bill sponsored by Rep. Jim McPike, D-Alton, to create an authority to promote economic development in Madison and St. Clair counties cleared an Illinois House Committee Friday, but Republicans withheld their support.

McPike noted the Southwest Illinois Development Authority legislation was being pushed by Republican Gov. James Thompson and an official of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) was at the committee hearing to support its creation.

The Republican spokesman on the House Economic Development Committee, Rep. Robert Piel, R-South Holland, urged GOP members to vote "present" despite the governor's backing of the measure. Piel questioned whether the state could afford "start up" money for a new program like the authority.

Seven Republicans on the committee voted present and three more voted no, with all of the 13 votes needed to get the bill out of committee coming from Democrats.

"I try to be responsive to the governor when he comes to the St. Louis area and he says he wants to promote economic development," McPike said, chiding Republicans who he said should be "willing to put the governor's bill on the House floor."

McPike, the House majority leader, said the governor's office had drafted the bill and both he and Thompson's staff were willing to work out a compromise on the "quick take" condemnation powers given the authority that would allow the state to acquire property and the Illinois Realtors Association.

Meanwhile, McPike said Rep.

Wyvetter Young, D-East St. Louis, still has not agreed to support the legislation and he is still "discussing" it with her. But he said Sen. Kenneth Hall, D-East St. Louis, is now backing the bill.

Opposition from Hall, Young, and some other St. Clair County politicians last spring resulted in McPike not calling an identical bill in the House during the 1986 legislative session.

McPike said he would leave it to DCCA to ask for a state appropriation for administrative "start up" costs for the authority, but he suggested $150,000 as a possible figure. After the authority begins selling revenue bonds for its projects, it could become self-supporting, he said.

Some Republicans on the committee also questioned a part of the bill giving local governments in Madison and St. Clair counties authority to levy property taxes to support authority projects if they wished to do so, McPike said he doubted whether many municipalities would be willing to share their tax revenues with the authority, anyway.

The authority itself would not have any direct taxing powers but could issue revenue bonds backed up by the state. It could issue the bonds for a wide range of industrial, commercial and recreational projects. It has been suggested the authority could be used as a means of financing a proposed marina at the site of present Locks and Dam 26 at Alton after the new dam is finished.

McPike noted the governor had strongly urged creation of the authority in his "State of the State" message in February.

Allen considering legal action against Cencom

EDWARDSVILLE — Madison County State's Attorney Dick Allen is considering legal action, including possible criminal charges, against Cencom Cable Television.

Allen's remarks were in a letter to U.S. Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., chairman of the House Committee on Energy and Commerce. Allen asked Dingell for information on certain federal legislation regarding cable television.

Allen said his office "is giving serious consideration to filing criminal charges on false and misleading advertising as well as contemplating action on deceptive and unfair practices."

Barry Babcock, Cencom executive vice president, said Allen is poorly informed about cable television law and described his comments about possible legal action as unprofessional.

"Obviously, there are no criminal violations here," Babcock said. "In the letter, Allen told Dingell he is frustrated by the company's 'cavalier attitude' toward the needs and concerns of the public."

Allen urged review of the Cable Communications Policy

Act of 1984, the nation's basic cable television law. Allen also wrote to U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, D-Ill., asking his assistance and advice.

Allen recently met with Cencom officials and said progress was made, though he wasn't entirely satisfied with the company's responses to his concerns. Allen has criticized Cencom literature which promoted additional cable programming without mentioning its additional cost. He also said the company has led consumers to believe they need a new PD-3 converter box, when many do not.

Allen's office last week released a "citizens alert" regarding the PD-3 converter. Cable subscribers were advised they don't need the converter if they just have basic cable service.

"If you already installed the device, you can remove it and return it," according to the alert.

Customers were further advised that they didn't need the converter if they planned to discontinue premium services and that the converter renders ineffectual the remote control capability of cable-ready TVs.

Babcock said some of Allen's advice confuses the subscribers.

"What he told them (about returning converters) was exactly the opposite of what they should do from a consumer standpoint," Babcock said.

If a subscriber has the converter and doesn't use the additional services it allows, Babcock said it costs nothing, but gives the subscriber the option of receiving such programming if he chooses to do so.

Babcock said the company ran advertisements in four area newspapers last week in an effort to respond to the concerns of Allen's office and consumers.

"We spent quite a lot of money," he said. "We thought it was a positive thing to do."

The company tried to make the ads as comprehensive and objective as possible, Babcock said. Myles McCall, an assistant to Allen, denied that the office's activities are politically motivated.

"Mr. Allen would be remiss not to get involved in this, based on the consumer complaints," McCall said.

Social Services Network sets legal, AIDS programs

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Targeted topics of the Social Service Network in April include a review of services available through the attorney general's office and a report on the new Madison County AIDS program.

The Social Service Network consists of representatives from many area agencies that work with education, youth, health, welfare, disadvantaged and rehabilitation programs.

Dennis J. Orsey, assistant attorney general, will present the initial program on Monday, April 6, at the Salvation Army Community Center, 3007 E. 23rd St.

Orsey will provide details of the wide range of legal and personal services available through the regional offices of Attorney General Neil Hartigan.

Immediate and long-range objectives of the newly implemented Madison County AIDS Outreach and Counseling Program and the scope of services being offered to high-risk groups will be the subject of the network's April 20 meeting, said Jack Strader, chairman.

See what happens when you don't get a home-improvement loan?

What this home-owner needs is a demolition loan. This disaster could have been prevented with a home-improvement loan a few years back. (In this case, thirty years back.)

Anyway, there's no better investment than timely home repair and improvement, with a home improvement loan from First Bank or Colonial Bank.

You get a combination of benefits. Your home becomes more valuable. You live more comfortably. And your old arithmetic teacher will write you a nice letter telling you how proud she is that you remember her common-sense lessons.

Before you commit yourself to a home-improvement project, have a talk with us about the money end of it. You may be able to do more and do it right—and make a better investment of it—with our financial help.

Drug bust money to be presented

Frederick J. Hess, U.S. attorney for the Illinois southern district, announced March 20 that Deputy Attorney General Arnold I. Burns will be in the district to visit staff.

Burns will also present proceeds, in excess of $187,000, from drug seizures to Inspector General Jeremy Margolis of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation. L. Robert Magnuson, DCI Area IV commander, and Louie Inlow, Zone 13 commander.

Burns will also recognize the contribution of FBI agents Robert Dueker and Larry Davis, and DCI agents Larry Cook, Gary Brody and Bob Emery to the LECC program of the U.S. attorney's office for the district.

The presentation will be at 11:15 a.m. in the Aero Flight Hangar at the Marion County Airport, Marion, on March 25.

Burns will present checks from forfeited drug proceeds and praise the five federal and state agents for their efforts from August 1982 to March 1987.

To date as a result of this joint effort by the FBI and DCI, more than 150 defendants have been convicted with the majority being sentenced to terms of imprisonment. There are currently 24 defendants under indictment or who have been found guilty and are awaiting sentencing. There are also 26 defendants who have signed written plea agreements but not yet entered pleas. In excess of $2 million in cash and property have been seized by this joint investigative effort.

An investigative approach of extensive and thorough interviews of witnesses and cooperating subjects was utilized which also supplemented the intelligence base mentioned above. An attitude by both investigators and prosecutors of aggressive prosecution was practiced and proved vital to the success of investigative efforts. The direction of investigations always focused on the development of prosecutable cases against the ultimate supplier or manufacturer but at the same time, efforts were made to destroy the organization as a whole.

In 1986, the prosecution of Earl Dean Bond who was charged with a continuing criminal enterprise and nine other defendants concerned the distribution of cocaine and large amounts of marijuana in the Metro East resulted in the seizure of more than $374,000 in cash. From these funds the federal government is sharing more than $187,000 with the state agency cooperating in the investigation.

The key ingredient in the success of this effort has been a constant effort and follow-through by both the federal and state investigative agents and the attorneys handling the different prosecutions. Starting with a law enforcement's desire to prosecute narcotics offenders, the investigation has continued and resulted in the destruction of several organizations involved in the distribution of narcotics. The efforts of the joint investigation have sent a clear message to individuals involved in drug trafficking in Southern Illinois indicating law enforcement's desire to prosecute narcotics offenders.

In this instance, crime pays the state to further pursue drug traffic in Southern Illinois.

The deputy attorney general has consented to answer media questions at the Aero Flight Hangar at the Marion County Airport after the presentation.

Burns has indicated a willingness to answer questions of the metropolitan area print and electronic media at 4 p.m. March 25 in the office of U.S. Attorney Frederick J. Hess.

Innovations make life easier

If you ever watch reruns of television shows made in the '50s and '60s, you might have noticed how different the houses look from the ones being built today.

American lifestyles have changed dramatically during the past three decades. These changes are reflected in the styles and features of new homes today. Homes are designed to provide more efficiency, convenience and comfort than ever before.

Many features that we now take for granted were very uncommon a generation ago. For example, only 10 percent of all new single-family homes built in 1983 had air conditioning. Today, more than 70 percent of all new homes have air conditioning and most of those that don't are in the cooler Northern states.

American energy prices increased dramatically in the '70s, the home building industry responded by producing more energy efficient houses. Heating and cooling systems use less energy and superior insulation techniques prevent heat from being wasted. Home operating expenses have also been reduced through the use of double and triple-glassed windows along with passive solar techniques — designing and positioning a house to achieve the maximum benefits from sunlight.

In the kitchen, appliances are more energy efficient and provide a level of convenience unheard of 20 years ago. Self-cleaning ovens, microwave ovens, frost-free refrigerators and built-in dishwashers are all fairly recent phenomena even though many people now take them for granted. No-wax floors and easy-to-maintain sinks and counters help to reduce the time needed to keep the kitchen tidy.

Technological advances allow new home buyers to enjoy a greater range of options than ever before. Consumers who are buying homes in subdivisions can take advantage of a myriad of choices of what will go into their homes if they register their preferences with construction in progress. Of course, those who want to totally determine everything that will be in their homes, can buy a piece of land and hire a builder to construct a home to their exact specifications.

One of the most important advantages of buying a new home is the warranty protection that comes with it. Many builders back their own warranties on workmanship and materials, typically for one year. A warranty backed by insurance costs more, but it offers much more protection. Knowing that problems which may arise are covered by a warranty will give you added peace of mind.

If you are considering moving, you have never had as many options as you do today. Take advantage of them when you shop for a new home.

SUGAR & STRESS

"Today under the pressures of work, it is more vital than ever for people to learn how to overcome stress. By far the biggest culprit in the inability to cope with stress is refined sugar," says Dr. E. Cherkasov of University of Alabama. "If you cut down on sugar, you'll discover an amazing change in your attitude and personality," he says. "You'll be better able to handle stress situations that cause temper or impatience." Fresh fruit is a good substitute for refined sugar and sweets.

Living Every Day

by Bob Thomas, President,
Thomas Mortuaries
Tradition — Dignity — Support

THE FACES OF GRIEF

As a Funeral Director I have dealt with loss on a daily basis for over 25 years. While the loss I have dealt with in my profession has been through death, there are expanded types of loss in addition to death that we each encounter in our private lives. We must cope with each the many different types of losses that we encounter.

In addition to loss through death, there is loss through divorce, children moving away, termination of employment, estrangement from friends, ill health, isolation and loneliness, among others.

I have learned that life is a very fragile gift. If we are to enjoy this gift to the fullest, we must cope with and learn to live through the losses that we encounter in our daily lives. We must learn to "Live Life Every Day."

We at Thomas, Mercer and Lahey Sedlack Mortuaries have established a tradition of helping the families we serve to cope with the loss of their loved one. We have an active program dedicated to helping with the needs of the family after the funeral.

Recognizing the need for tradition with the addition of our Walk On Program, a support group for all persons who have experienced a recent loss in their lives. In addition, we will sponsor community activities designed to assist the people of Granite City, Madison and Venice in coping with all levels of loss.

"Living Every Day," a column that will appear twice monthly in the Granite City Press Record/Journal represents a further expansion of our tradition.

"Living Every Day" will address topics of interest that will help all of us cope with the loss and stress that we encounter on a daily basis, so that we may all enjoy this precious gift we call life to its fullest extent.

Edwardsville band books far-flung tour

For those who played in their high school orchestras, most memories involve tedious hours of practice, a few mandatory concerts and the traditional performance for commencement.

But musicians at Edwardsville High School will reflect on musical capitals of Europe, such as Vienna and Salzburg.

The Edwardsville High School Chamber Orchestra will go to the International Youth and Music Festival in Vienna this summer. The orchestra is one of two U.S. groups to take part in the prestigious competition.

Bands, orchestras and choirs from around the world will participate. Winning musical groups will perform as the Festival Orchestra in a closing gala. Several ensembles will be selected to perform a radio concert for broadcast by the Austrian Radio Network. The Edwardsville orchestra will submit an audition tape for this honor.

The orchestra will be in Europe July 7 through 23. The trip will include concerts in Munich, Frankfurt, Innsbruck, Lucerne and Strasbourg, director James Richmond said.

"They have been very mature about what we're doing," Richmond said. "The preparation for the music for this is an all-year occurrence. We've worked on some of this music a good part of the year."

The orchestra will perform three compositions for competition, including a composition by James Woodard, a professor of music at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville. The piece, "American Folk Ballad," was dedicated to the Edwardsville High School orchestra and premiered at the Midwest National Band and Orchestra Clinic in Chicago in December 1985.

The relationship between the high school and SIUE is special. Richmond credits the Suzuki string program at the university for much of the orchestra's success.

"What makes these students so different is the influence of the SIUE Suzuki program with John Kendall," Richmond said. "He was one of the first Americans to bring the Suzuki technique of teaching young children to the U.S. He's an outstanding teacher, and obviously, the results prove it."

The talent in EHS Chamber Orchestra is apparent. Another obvious fact is the group's need of financial support for the European tour.

McDonald's seeks school musicians

McDonald's Restaurants is once again searching for the nation's top high school musicians.

McDonald's Restaurants in the St. Louis and Metro East areas urge all local high school band directors to nominate one or two of their best senior band members to the McDonald's All-American High School Band.

Nomination forms are being mailed to 25,000 high school band directors inviting them to participate. Any band director who has not received a nomination form should contact Kristi Meyers at (314) 863-0005 immediately. Nominations must be postmarked by April 15 to be eligible.

Nominees will be considered on the basis of their band director's written nomination and musical honors received during the past three years. Two senior musicians will be chosen per state including two from Washington, D.C., one from Puerto Rico, and one from the Virgin Islands, to make up the 104-piece band. Every nominee will also be required to submit an audition tape to aid in the selection.

Storytelling funds granted to libraries

Close to 1,000 low-income and handicapped pre-schoolers in St. Clair and Madison counties will benefit from Project Head Start Storytelling Residency.

"This project, funded by a grant totaling $18,018 from the Illinois State Library to the Belleville Public Library, involves Head Start Centers in seven cities and eight public libraries.

The project brings together public libraries, professional storytellers and Head Start staff in a co-operative effort to bring a new lasting interest in libraries and literature through storytelling.

Professional storytellers will provide regular in-house storytelling sessions at Head Start Centers in East St. Louis, Belleville, Caseyville, Cahokia, Alton, Granite City and Venice through May.

According to Project Coordinator Marilyn Kinsella, storytelling provides sheer, unconscious enjoyment of a story and is the first stage of appreciation of literature and the first step to accepting the library as the story place.

Head Start is a federally-funded program for low-income and handicapped pre-schoolers. Many of the low-income parents are often illiterate or have poor reading habits. Head Start tries to break the cycle of illiteracy by providing stimulating activities for pre-schoolers.

Project Director Geraldine Hermann of the Belleville Public Library says the Storytelling Residency will help in this endeavor by adding storytelling as a very definite and exciting motivational activity.

In addition to the storytelling sessions, a number of other activities are planned to help perpetuate storytelling as a motivational tool.

Workshops are planned for Head Start staff and day care personnel to train them how to incorporate storytelling into their daily planning. Along with this, Pre-School Resource Kits will be developed and made available at participating libraries. These resource kits will include appropriate books and tapes used in pre-school storytelling, a composite video of the grant, and a collection of all the stories and activities used by the professional storytellers during the residencies.

The participating libraries include: The Belleville Public Library, the Cahokia Public Library, the Caseyville Public Library and the East St. Louis Public Library from the Kaskaskia Library System, and the East Alton Public Library, the Granite City Public Library, the Hayner Public Library and the Venice Public Library from the Lewis and Clark Library System.

Parent workshops will be held at participating libraries. The purpose of these workshops is to provide incentives for the parents to become familiar with the library and to use storytelling in their homes. Library tours will be given at the workshop along with a special story hour for the Head Start Children and their parents.

Grandpa role like teacher's life

By Deborah Reinhardt
Staff writer

There's an interesting similarity between actor Clayton Corzatte and Grandpa Vanderhof, the role Corzatte plays in Theater Project Company's production of You Can't Take It With You.

The American classic by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart looks at the unconventional, quirky but likable Sycamore-Vanderhof household. The family members happily pursue their interests, which makes for funny conflicts and self-doubts that ultimately call for grandpa to teach the family its successes also are numerous.

Like Grandpa Vanderhof, Corzatte is a teacher. He shares the knowledge he has gained in a long theatrical career with drama students at Cornish College of the Arts in Seattle, where he and his wife, Susan, are teachers. Corzatte, who has played opposite superstars such as Helen Hayes and Katharine Hepburn, also has directed many regional theater productions.

"I enjoy the whole process of rehearsal and playing," Corzatte said. "I love to teach and direct. Everything I do professionally is in one way or another connected with theater. Even when things aren't going terribly well, you're struggling with something you care about."

Corzatte said he hopes his experiences on stage and behind the scenes add a dimension to performances.

"Now I always think in terms of what the whole scene is doing and what I need to do in my part to nurture that," he said.

That comes easy in this play because he loved the part of Grandpa Vanderhof.

"He's (grandpa) sort of the heart and soul of this entire family," Corzatte said. "The family goes through a crisis and doubts what it has done all these years. At last, grandpa reminds them all of the useful courses they've chosen. It's all about love and freedom and what a valuable thing time is to us. I dig Grandpa's position thoroughly."

The message to this comedy is as poignant today as it was when the play was written in 1938.

"In the last half century, society has been so concerned with being upwardly mobile," Corzatte said. "The young people in the family suffer most. The cohesiveness of the family has suffered a lot. But people have started to realize that."

Corzatte, who has a theatrical aura from the top of his silver head to his black, polished oxford shoes, stumbled onto his beloved profession while a student in the radio and television department at the University of Alabama. While writing and performing material, he decided an acting class would be helpful for a broadcaster-to-be.

But Corzatte realized he loved performing for a live audience after his first stage production. Since then, every night is a fresh adventure as Corzatte helps transform dozens of people into one unit. And while he recognizes there are problems theaters must address — like shortages of money and the breakup of regional theater companies — Corzatte is happy to be an actor.

"I've been in a way lucky that I've done what I like to do," he says. You Can't Take It With You opens March 27 and continues through April 18 at New City School, 5209 Waterman. Performances are at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Sunday performances will be at 8 p.m. March 29 and April 12 and 2 p.m. April 5. Tickets range from $6 to $12. Call the box office at 314-531-1301 for reservations or more information.

Board to review administrators' jobs

Asked if administrators will receive raises this year, Walmsley said, "I hope so. They are being proposed." He declined to give details on the proposals.

Most administrative positions are held at the board office. "We will be doing an assessment of each administrator," he said.

Walmsley said he hopes such a "total reassessment" will make administrative responsibilities "definite." He said such reviews are not unusual in the district.

"Administrative salary adjustments," was one of five agenda topics the board discussed in a 2½-hour closed meeting.

Attorney Butch Peterson, of the William Schooley law office, the board's legal counsel, outlined the proposed changes. Peterson said the board could save $15 by installing it themselves, Owen said. He said a newspaper advertisement was published after a talk with Allen, to make people aware of rates for cable channels.

"They said they would correct that (letter)," Allen said. "They did do a kind of halfway correction. They didn't admit it was misleading."

Owen said Wednesday that Cencom is a distributor for the fight and is bound to contractual obligations with the promoter. He said the promoter will not allow restaurants to have the fight.

Concerning the Elks, Owen said he believed games are restricted to residences under an agreement with the baseball Cardinals.

other employers didn't exist, he said.

The falsification of VA loans is not restricted to Hoffman's company, Slagle said.

There are "two or three others," he said.

A former Hoffman employee, John Pasdeck, said Wednesday that he knew nothing of the VA investigation. Hoffman made many loans through the VA, but nothing seemed illegal, Pasdeck said.

"Whatever he (Hoffman) did, he must have done on his own," Pasdeck said.

percent in one crack," Worthen said.

Street superintendents' salaries in other communities were compared and a compromise figure was derived, said 7th Ward Alderman Mike Modrusic, who requested the ordinance.

Alton's street superintendent earns $28,300 annually, said Alton Comptroller James Bailey. The city's projected revenue for fiscal 1987 is $18 million, Bailey said.

right. That's our judicial system, such as it is."

When the Press-Record informed Bailey that there would not be an investigation, he said, "That sounds good to me. It turned out the way I thought the meeting. There are three circumstances cited by the board at the meeting for executive sessions, but the specific reason for closing the meeting was not given.

"You can read the act... It's in there," Peterson said when asked to explain his legal opinion to the board on the matter. The board did not specify in their motion which exemption the five topics to be discussed in executive session fell under.

At the end of most regular meetings, the board closes the meeting using the phrase "personnel, negotiations and legal matters," without identifying which topic fits which of the three exemptions to the law.

The board also gave honorable dismissal notices to three certified employees.

The state requires school districts to give employees termination notices by April 1, if termination is planned for the next school year.

Walmsley said that, depending on severance pay factors, the employees could be hired back next year.

He said the letter was misleading about rates and made people think they had to buy PD-3, but persons wanting only basic service didn't need it.

"Insofar as the charges (against Cencom), you can say they're still under scrutiny," he said.

The letter was meant only to tell people where they could get PD-3 and that they could save $15 by installing it themselves, Owen said. He said a newspaper advertisement was published after a talk with Allen, to make people aware of rates for cable channels.

"They said they would correct that (letter)," Allen said. "They did do a kind of halfway correction. They didn't admit it was misleading."

The attorney handling the Hoffman estate, Irv Slate, said Wednesday he had been contacted by Slagle and is aware of the VA investigation. He said the investigator was seeking VA home loan information.

The investigation has been in progress for several months and Hoffman's death was unknown to the investigator until about a month ago, Slagle said.

Carl Hoffman and his wife, Susan, were murdered May 1, 1986, by Bruce Frederick. Robert Trone said during the trial that Bruce killed the Hoffmans because Bruce gambled away more than $50,000 away to Hoffman in poker games. Bruce was convicted of the murders March 19.

The street superintendent in Belleville earns $26,220 a year, said Budget Officer Ken Reynolds. The city has an estimated yearly income of $19,147,000, Reynolds said.

Granite City's projected income for fiscal 1987 is $18 million, said Comptroller Joe Miklovic.

The ordinance increasing the salary had to be brought before the council before the April 7 election, said City Attorney Mark Goldenberg. Warfield is running unopposed for re-election in April.

it was going to turn out. There wasn't anything there anyway."

The chief said the lack of an investigation shows he was doing his job properly.

"I feel that there hasn't been any wrongdoing," he said. "If there's anything that needs to be changed, I'm going to be talking to our attorney and taking his advice."

Backs two Venice council candidates

To the editor:
Just to set the record straight, I am not a candidate for mayor of Venice or any other public office. This is being written to put rest the many rumors concerning the 1989 elections.
I am not and will not be a candidate for the office of mayor, alderman, park board member or any other elected office in Venice.
I have no desire to run for any office in Venice, but I do have the freedom and constitutional right to run for any office that I would want to. Nobody can tell me what I can or cannot run for. God is my boss, and no "two-bit" politician or any other ordinary human being controls my life — only Jesus.
My special thanks and appreciation to all the citizens who are concerned about me. It's a good feeling to know I do have some friends.

I will support whomever I wish in the mayor's race or any other race. And, since it is getting close to the April 7, 1987, election, I am supporting two people for alderman — in Ward 1, Charles Collins, and in Ward 2, Mrs. Barbara Harrell. I sincerely believe these two individuals will be good servants to their respective wards and have the interests of the people at heart, and their backgrounds speak for them.
The citizens of Venice deserve people who will stand by the interests of their ward as well as the city as a whole. Mr. Collins will do that for Ward 1 and Mrs. Harrell will do that for Ward 2.
We need people who are concerned about the city of Venice, and not just in attending the council meetings. Charles and Barbara can help put the city on the move. A vote for them is a vote for you, the people.

We need jobs in our city — business, housing, strict curfew law enforcement and more year-round recreational activities for our youth.
Our police department could better serve us also by increasing patrols and enforcing the curfew law, thereby eliminating the gathering of large groups on street corners late at night.
More of us need to get involved in Crime Watch to keep our city a safe place to live and work. Our senior citizens should not be afraid to walk down a street because they fear some young thugs or hoodlums will be harassing them.
I am asking all my friends and relatives — and enemies, too — to please get to the polls and exercise your voter rights. Your vote is power and this power speaks louder than words.

Basketball team achieved glory

To the editor:
It can be called the greatest Illinois Class A basketball championship game ever played when the mighty Venice Red Devils won the Okawville Rockets on the weekend of March 13 and 14, in Champaign. My hat's off to the greatest coach, Clinton Harris, and assistant coach Rich Everage, and the whole Venice Red Devils Team, for a job well done.
It was a weekend in Champaign that I and hundreds of other faithful Venice Red Devils fans will never forget. It was an uphill battle. Joy of victory sounded like a mighty cloud of thunder.
We all should learn a lesson from the team. They stayed together as a team, they struggled together as a team. There was no individual boasting or egotism but as a team the Venice Red Devils showed us love, hard work, and true friendship. The team brought the community together. We all were rooting: Those that were at home, those that weren't interested were cheering for the Venice Red Devils.
To the coaches, team and cheerleaders, Booster Club, fans, we all got something to shout about. We are Number One in the state of Illinois, Class A basketball.
It wasn't an easy journey. I can look back and see how the good Lord smiled on our little team and community. The fans outnumbered us everywhere we played. The Venice Red Devils made us tall. As we look back, coach Harris, you led the children out of the wilderness in Freeburg, by beating Lebanon. Then Moses came to another problem, the Red Sea. Coach Harris was in the Vandavia Section and we crossed over Ciespie and Staunton. Moses had some difficult days and rough times, so did the Venice Red Devils. But coach Harris had a dream that he and the Red Devils would get to the promised land. Moses went to the mountain top and viewed the promised land but Moses did not go over it. Coach Harris and the Venice Red Devils went to the Charleston Super Sectional which was the mountain top and Coach Harris said we can take it.

The Venice Red Devils went and knocked down the Newton Jericho walls and possessed the rights to Champaign, Canaan land. But when coach Joshua Harris got in the promised land, he found out there was some giants, by the name of Pearl City and the Devils went up Clinton and the Devils went down in prayer. No doubt they said you brought us this far, don't leave us now. Although, Venice was like a grasshopper, they hopped all over the giant Pearl City and ran them and beat them: what a sweet victory it was.

Even after possessing the land, it wasn't easy. One down and two more to go, that Saturday. We, the Devils and fans had a roller coaster ride with Christman. But we made it, and an uphill battle, close, nail biting, heart jumping, blood pressure up and down, screaming, howling and jumping. Joshua Clinton knew he had a battle on his hands with five seconds to go, game tied, Jess Hall was the free throw line. We had a prayer meeting in Champaign. I never saw so many Devils in my life, at one time, go down in prayer. We, Devils did some praying, when Jesse made the last two baskets. Joy was heard from Champaign all the way to Venice. Coach Harris and the team — we are proud of you.
To the senior boys, take care of yourself. Jesse is our Devil and we love you and the Venice Red Devils and coaches.
Do it again in 1988.
May God bless you all
REV. JOHN H. WILLIAMS

Objects to rezoning for Shoney's

To the editor:
I am writing in response to the article in the March 19 Press-Record by Bill Bagby concerning Shoney's rezoning delay by city planning commission. Mr. John Jakich stated that Shoney's officials said they would cooperate with the residents and city planning inspectors. Mr. Jakich was quoted as saying, "They are the same people that built Lee's Chicken and they cooperated with us 100 percent."
Mr. Jakich does not live next door to Lee's or Shoney's. A statement would not have been made. I live next door to Lee's and would like to make some of my problems known to the residents of Richmond and Fair Oaks Drive.
If you look at the building for Lee's Chicken, I believe you will notice how close it is built to my property. I do not believe Shoney's was concerned about the residents, or they would have put the building farther away from the residents. The speaker for the drive-through is much too close to my home. The trash bin to Lee's is also very close to my home which has created several problems. During the summer it is very difficult to sit on my back porch because of the flies and the smell of the trash and the smell of the trash. BPI picks up their trash and as of this date I have not had help from Lee's or BPI or Shoney's on this problem. The trash is always picked up before 5 a.m. on Wednesday and several calls to Lee's and Shoney's asking them not to pick up their trash so early but so far I have not received any cooperation. Most of the pick-ups have been at around 3 a.m.

The residents of Cottage Avenue were told that there would be a sign put up at the end of Lee's driveway stating "No Right Turn" to keep traffic from going down our street, as of yet there is no sign.

Lee's operating hours are reasonable but after hours when the employees are left to clean-up, the noise continues, the employees slam the trash bin at all hours. The employees have been loud during these cleaning hours. I have had the health inspector to come to Lee's because they were throwing garbage in the alley.
I thought that when Lee's put up privacy fences that would eliminate the trash from getting in my yard, it doesn't. There is always trash from Lee's in my yard.
Some of these problems could have been solved if Lee's would have considered the residents before building the building, now the problems will have to be worked out and I am still waiting for cooperation from Shoney's or Lee's.

Home rule law sets up royalty

To the editor:
Home rule, as defined in Section 6, Article VII, The Illinois State Constitution, gives the laws of any municipality preeminence over county laws. It is quite different from state law.
Any county which elects a chief executive officer, county manager, and supervisor, and any municipality with a population of more than 25,000 is automatically included under home rule. This allows the ruling power or almost unlimited power to regulate for the protection of the public health, safety, morals and welfare; to tax; license; incur debt; and to regulate and control citizens under their jurisdiction without reference to the state.
To remove home rule, a petition must be drawn for a referendum. If the petition fails, a majority vote, four years must pass before another petition can be drawn for the same purpose.

If home rule is removed, only two years must pass before it can be petitioned for a referendum.
Many attempts have been made in Illinois' cities to remove home rule but only a few have succeeded. Rockford is the largest to remove this so-called privilege in recent years.
It is one thing to get such a public policy matter on the ballot; getting the petition properly written and obtaining the required number of valid signatures. After that is done, most citizens fail to follow up with getting the required majority of votes.
In countries where they have freedom, as we know it in America, is only a dream. In the U.S., where one person equals one vote, there should not be any such ruling class. Sadly enough, many voters feel there is a need for royalists who like to gravitate to the top and decide what is best for all of us. Home rule is made to order for these kind of people.

In the last paragraph of Section 6, it says that the powers and functions of home rule units shall be construed liberally. Some believe, too, that our state legislature has gone overboard to honor this clause.
Section 7 gives a glimpse of how it would be if no home rule had ever been invented. The state Constitution is subject to change within the next three years as mandated. The people (all eligible voters and responsible citizens) should get involved in correcting the new one which should be good for another 20 years.

Swift wanted by Rep. Mel Price

To the editor:
When Swift Independent Packing Co. closed its doors in February 1986 it had a traumatic effect on the local economy. It had an even greater effect on the individual economy of the workers who lost their jobs. Many of those workers have not been employed since. This tragic incident, however, will be minor compared to the tragedy of not getting a plant re-opened when everything was in place to do so.
Company officials indicated they canceled the re-opening planned this spring because they were led to believe the incentive package offered them was in jeopardy. That incentive package was not, and is not, in jeopardy. Any indication given otherwise was a serious mistake. Dixon, Sen. Simon, and myself offered our influence, assistance, and our recommendation to Swift when the proposal to re-open was made in October 1986. Today, we continue to encourage the company to do business here. The success of this effort will depend on whether we can get the company officials to trust as again, to believe we are good on our word. I believe with hard work this trust lost due to an unfortunate incident, will be regained.

The federal delegation wants Swift back. We want the $30 million annual revenue it will pump into the Metro East Sanitary District; we want the $3.5 million in local agricultural activities it will create; and we want the $8 million payroll to 400 working Illinoisans.
MELVIN PRICE
U.S. Representative

Doesn't think concern is justified

To the editor:
The person that gripped about a five cent raise on the Press-Record, sure forgot about the two free papers a week we get and have for a few years. I like the paper and look forward to it. I even donated to it to keep getting it. As far as the carrier, I always gave the kid a tip. I know there's many a time when those little guys don't get paid. This is what I think. They should worry about that phone tax, that the aldermen didn't help with, yet a month or two later they gave themselves a $50 raise. What for? They don't do anything! Just promises. That goes for Concom Cable. Why did they double the senior citizens rate? I have mine taken out. I just wish local stations anyway. There are quite a few here at Anchorage that did the same.

HAPPY READER

Says appointment likely

To the editor:
Election day is near in the 2nd Ward of Madison. The incumbent is out in the ward for the first time since voters elected him. He is making big campaign promises he cannot fill.
My other opponent, a former alderman, is telling people he can clean their sewers, solve the police shortage, and put an end to the problems at the Gateway truck stop.
I have not been granted the privilege of serving as an elected alderman, but I hope to soon have that privilege.

Our mayor is keeping open the alderman position vacated by the death of Charles Costoff. If either I or the incumbent is successful in the election, I think Mr. Costoff should be appointed.
Voters have the right to choose who they want as their alderman. I hope they do not support a candidate who cannot lose.
MICHAEL ANTONOVICH JR.

Hewlett problem solver

To the editor:
Regarding the 4th Ward election, Tom Hewlett was appointed as alderman by the mayor to fill the balance of Mr. Miller's term. Even though he had no previous political experience, his ability as a problem-solver has finalized the installation of sewers on Norwood Drive.
He is an active, probing alderman who is in the ward five under others to get a job done.
We still need his help to deal with area flooding, poorly maintained streets, enforcement of Granite City laws on trash, cars not drivable on private property, as well as elimination of street parking where driveways are available.

We, in the Melrose Addition, for over the past 10 years have been waiting for someone to improve the forgotten area of the 4th Ward. Now, let us vote for Tom Hewlett at least he has completed a project.

SPORTHOTICS
Sporthotics are biomechanical foot orthoses designed for the recreational athlete. Because sports activities create a prolonged and severe changes in amplitude and direction of stresses upon feet and legs, it is necessary to ease the force and to maximize efficiency and performance.
During sports participation, the contact surface of the foot increases 20 to 30 percent. Prescribed orthoses must be longer and wider than conventional inserts, able to withstand impact of up to five times body weight.
Children as well as adults are candidates for sporthotics. Your podiatrist will prescribe inserts for specific foot types, age groups and sport activity.

Don't touch that dial Cable story a soap opera

The program wasn't going well, with South Western Cable TV getting generally low ratings. People wanted a change and got it—a dashing new performer, Cencom Cable.

Hopes for a better story took a quick fade to black. The company immediately took on attributes of a villain by eliminating union employees. Such action is better reserved for the Theater of the Absurd than this strongly union area.

The company segued into its next problem via the telephone. Calls to Cencom are put on "terminal hold" and are more often never answered. The company's voice is the drone of a busy signal.

As sure as tying a woman to the railroad tracks, increasing rates further tarnished the company's image. Senior citizens were not excluded.

The company got itself to the point where no one wanted its autograph.

Then came the PD-III... like Jaws III or Halloween III, or Psycho III.

PD-3s are ugly and hard for the average person to install. People don't like it cluttering their homes. Making it worse is the letter the company sent to customers about the PD-3. Dick Allen, Madison County state's attorney, asserted the letter led consumers to believe they had to have the box when, in fact, those receiving only basic service don't need it.

At first, it seemed the state's attorney's office was simply trying to gain rating points by taking the company to task for the letter. Maybe it is, but the public is tuned in. Cencom, Allen said, made a half-hearted attempt to make the PD-3 letter by purchasing advertisements. But the trouble isn't over.

A new character may take center stage in the Cencom saga. A discussion between Allen and a member of the Illinois Attorney General's Office may result in consumer fraud charges against Cencom.

Allen said there are indications the company is not fulfilling contractual obligations and is denying service to business customers.

Cencom has serious problems with its image. Companies typically spend thousands of dollars for public relations experts to get them out from under serious problems, but we think the company could save that money if it incorporates these suggestions into its program:

- 1) Re-employ the union members.
 - 2) Install more phone lines and increase staffing to answer the calls.
 - 3) Apologize for the PD-3 letter.
 - 4) If contracts signed with South Western Cable TV are now Cencom's responsibility to honor, it should honor them, including those contracts involving businessmen who want to show special cable programs in their businesses.
- The company could build its ratings with the public, and the state's attorney's office, by heeding the advice. Cencom can dismiss the concerns and sash through future episodes of this sad soap opera.

Street work approach poor

Some aldermen will benefit from the $50,000 per ward to be spent on street work—at the polls.

Regardless of the miles of street per ward, there is variance, each ward got the same amount. That's poor planning.

The ward-by-ward approach, though politically rewarding, isn't the best approach to the city's needs.

Aldermen spent $30,000 for repairs in each ward last year and they will spend $50,000 in each ward this year. As we stated last year, it is inefficient and aldermen know it, or should, though they may react in rebuttal with vituperative vociferousness.

Rather than a shotgun approach to the city's needs, the money could be used on one or two major projects, such as widening Nameoki Road from Charles to Ponton Road to alleviate traffic and accident problems.

But the aldermen did not formulate an overall plan pinpointing the area's greatest needs despite last year's fiasco, and fiasco is the right word for it when dirt streets are asphalted, as occurred in Maryland Heights. Asphalt on dirt won't last long.

The aldermen again didn't do the job of creating a street plan, and though it's really too bad, we'll probably be able to print essentially this same editorial in 1988.

Why don't we drive at 65?

Ronald Reagan is making few friends with his threatened veto of the federal transportation bill, but his concern about money detracts from a greater concern—lives.

The issue of lives has taken a back seat in the dispute. The focus is mass transit, highway repairs, new construction and jobs. The $38 billion, five-year transportation bill is called too costly by Reagan but essential by members of Congress—The Senate voted 79-17 for the bill and the House voted 407-17 for it.

Reagan is against the bill's "pork-barrel projects," but favors the 65 mph limit on rural interstate highways. Congress is expected to override a veto. Congress, too, is concerned about the money, not lives.

This is a go-fast society. Too few are speaking for those who will die when the limit is increased. In fact, some assert it will save lives; drivers fall asleep because trips take longer at 55 mph, it was stated by a caller to KMOX radio last week.

The president and Congress may disagree on how much to spend, but agree lives are a fair trade off for the privilege of driving a little faster.

We disagree with that thinking.

Funds fighting child abuse

To the editor:

The sad and haunting specter of child abuse continues to plague our society. This year in Illinois, more than 90,000 children will be reported to the state Department of Children and Family Services as alleged victims of this pervasive social menace; more than 9,000 of these children will be victims of alleged sexual abuse. These young victims and their families must live and cope with the effects of that abuse for the rest of their lives.

Until 1984, there was little the average citizen could do to combat this horrible problem. But now there is. It's called the Child Abuse Prevention Fund. Illinois citizens may earmark up to $10 ($20 if filing jointly) of their state tax refunds to finance shelters for battered children, various community prevention programs, and treatment services for victims of abuse or neglect.

Illinois citizens have responded generously and well to this opportunity to help defenseless children—more than 150,000 persons have donated more than $1 million to the Child Abuse Prevention Fund to date. The fund is administered and monitored by DCF, but all donations go 100 percent into direct community services.

Programs funded by donations have just finished their second year of work—and it is as impressive as the numbers above. Thirty-two programs throughout all parts of the state served more than 45,000 children and their families. For these people, the taxpayers' generosity has meant new help and hope.

This year's drive for the Child Abuse Prevention Fund is now under way. That means Illinois taxpayers once again have the chance to help prevent child abuse in our state. As a society, we'll never be able to eliminate totally that one out-of-control moment, that mindless instance when a distraught parent lashed out at a defenseless child.

But numerous studies show that risks can be minimized, that adults can become better parents, and that most people genuinely want to do a better job of rearing their children. Through your donation, you can help them do just that.

In effect, the Child Abuse Prevention Fund is a referendum. Are we doing enough to protect innocent, defenseless children in our state? To do more, we suggest you check Box 11B on your Illinois income tax return. You'll be making a valuable investment in the future.

Letters policy

The Granite City Press-Record welcomes letters to the editor. The newspaper provides the "Letters" column to give readers an opportunity to voice opinions on various items of interest.

Letters should be brief. Typed letters, or letters that are neatly written are given priority treatment. Preference is also given to locally originated letters, but letters from outside the area are accepted.

Each letter must be signed and include the telephone number of the author. Authors may be called for verification purposes. Authors' names may be withheld on request, but the newspaper prefers to print names. There should be a clear reason given to the newspaper for why any name should not be used.

Letters are used as space permits in each of the three issues per week. The Granite City Press-Record reserves the right to edit letters. Letters may be edited to conform with the newspaper's standards of style, punctuation, grammar and spelling. Long letters may be shortened. Letters containing libel will be edited to delete the libel, or not used. The letter's tone or intention will not be changed.

To participate, send your letters to: Letters to the editor, Granite City Press-Record, 1815 Delmar Ave., Granite City, IL 62040.

Clergy clamors, calls for cash

You are hearing an increasing proliferation of preachers on TV urgently seeking your money. Some do it discreetly. Some do it overtly.

But the emphasis on money has most Americans believing that Christian fund-raising is neither ethical nor honest.

The Gallup Organization surveyed a cross-section of Americans and most disturbing to Evangelical Christians was this unprecedented suspicion that many of the electronic clergy are in it for the money.

A recent conference in Kansas City contemplated the ethics of Christian fund-raising.

Dr. Carl Henry told the assembled that the present Oral Roberts "financial integrity of evangelical fund-raising."

If I can dare a paraphrase the grand master of English grammar, what Henry is saying is that the Oral Roberts "do or die pitch" is an embarrassment. Further, the multiplicity of "send money now" campaigns on TV siphons off funds needed for the long-term commitments of, for example—Christian schools.

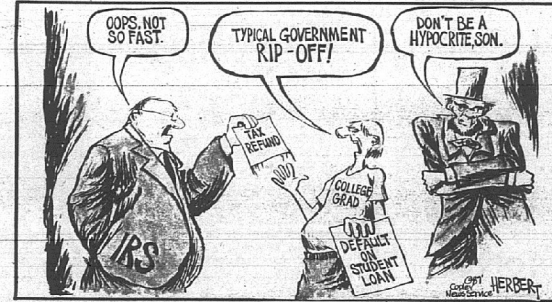

As Henry puts it, "So intense is the rivalry for dollars that short-term projects are sometimes pitted competitively against long-term educational enterprises."

Some ministries refuse to make public their doctrinal or financial statements.

Some offer to contributors books or premiums, cheap trinkets depicted as having intrinsic spiritual power. Fund appeals are most often justified with biblical quotations, such as the reference in Malachi to "storehouse giving." And though appeals sometimes focus on earthquakes, famines and other human crises, donated moneys may never be used to respond to those needs.

I cannot imagine calling or writing lifetime trusted friends—and even total strangers—urging contributions toward a self-aggrandizing monument.

Most of the money you send to Evangelist X for some dire need ends up paying the cost of tomorrow's telecast. I'm convinced most of those in the electronic clergy start out with the best of intentions but become enslaved by their own increasing overhead.

Readers react

Should 55mph limit go up?

Legislation has been passed by Congress allowing states to raise the 55mph speed limit on interstate highways in rural areas to 65mph. The bill has been sent to President Reagan for his approval. Do you support increasing the 55mph speed limit?

Opal Compton,
Granite City

"On the interstate highways, I think it would be beneficial to those traveling long distances. But it should be limited to interstate only."

Jenny Schneider,
Granite City

"No, I think there will be more accidents and, in turn, more injuries and deaths. They should just leave it (the 55mph limit) alone."

Rick Rothermich,
Edwardsville

"I think they should just leave it alone. Fifty-five is fast enough."

Vacation livin' made easy in waterlands of Kentucky

A heron poses in silhouette above its nest in a tree above the cypress brakes of the Mississippi River slough far below, white-tailed deer browse contentedly outside a dense woods at Land Between the Lakes. Grazing in a nearby pasture is a herd of American bison.

In many respects, Kentucky's Western Waterlands mirror life as it once was and as many Americans would like it forever to be. One of the last frontiers where natural resources are managed and endangered species are nurtured back from extinction, the area has much to offer sportsmen and vacationers.

It is a land of barbecues, catfish, leisurely southern ways, mud flats, bayous and nature preserves. The Jackson Purchase at the far western portion of Kentucky was bought from Chickasaw Indians in 1818. The isolated western tip of the state resembles Mississippi cities like New Orleans or Natchez and is known as the Dixieland of Kentucky.

The Western Waterlands extend northeast from the Jackson Purchase to the western corner of the state (Muhlenberg, Ohio and Hopkins counties). The area is an ideal spot for boating, sailing, water skiing and swimming.

Major waterways in the area are Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley. Kentucky Lake, created by Kentucky Dam, was built under Franklin D. Roosevelt's Tennessee Valley Authority. It's a gargantuan multipurpose flood control, navigation and hydroelectric dam completed in 1945 to harness the Tennessee River.

Barkley Lake, created by Barkley Dam, was finished in 1966. It's named after former vice president Alben W. Barkley from Paducah. Kentucky Lake seems to flow endlessly, rolling over the Tennessee Valley's broad flood plain. Lake Barkley twists with high, scenic hills of Cumberland Valley.

Kentucky's chic state resort park at Lake Barkley has an 18-hole golf course, beach, marina, trapshooting range, fitness center, pool and tennis courts and other outdoor sports and activities. Barkley Lodge on the eastern shore of the lake is a sleek structure made of wood and glass.

This is the state's most popular lake resort. Accommodations must be booked a year in advance. At press time, there were two days open in July. The toll-free number is 800-325-1708. Kentucky Dam Village State Resort Park at the northwestern edge of Kentucky Lake has Village Green Inn and Village Inn Lodge. There is a beach, marina, 18-hole golf course, pool and tennis courts.

Cottages at the village are reserved a year in advance, but rooms can be booked two or three months ahead. Amenities at the village are comparable to the Lake Barkley resort and reservations are more easily obtained. The toll-free number is 800-325-0146.

The rate at Kentucky Dam Village and Lake Barkley is $57 per day, double occupancy, from May 22 to Oct. 31. Not far away, Kenlake State Resort Park at the southern edge of Kentucky Lake, has an indoor tennis center, marina, pool, nine-hole golf course and lodge. Rooms are $51 per day, double occupancy, from May 22 to Oct. 31.

A journey into the "New Cave" near Carlsbad Caverns National Park in southeastern New Mexico is not for the weak in body or mind.

Left in its original state, this cave may be explored only by physically fit adventurers who are 12 or older. The trip into the dark cavern is a guided sojourn into a rugged, unlit hole. It has no paved trails and one step requires ropes to climb a rock. Indiana

Jones would love it.

It is still considered an "active" cave, which translates into slippery walkways, wet with drips from the cave's ceiling and walls. Sound like your idea of a good time? If so, make arrangements ahead of time through the Carlsbad Caverns visitors' center, 505-885-8984.

The New Cave is open daily during summer months and on weekends September through May.

double occupancy, from May 22 to Sept. 6. The toll-free number is 800-325-0143.

The Western Waterlands have a rich history that will interest, among others, Civil War buffs. This area was the home of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States of America. A 31-foot concrete obelisk stands in his honor at Fairview, east of Hopkinsville.

Another Confederate memorial is found at Columbus-Belmont Battlefield State Park. On these high bluffs overlooking the Mississippi River, Confederate forces in the Civil War tried to gain control of the river by block Union gunboats. Today, the park is a serene retreat with Civil War museum.

With its outdoor beauty and activities, history and family fun, the Western Waterlands may be the vacation option you've been looking for. Information provided by Kentucky Department of Travel Development.

Kentucky a cathedral for some sorts of fish

Kentucky contains elements of the South, the North and the Midwest. It isn't surprising that fishing in the Bluegrass State offers a sampling of angling opportunities from diverse regions.

Most anglers, for example, associate walleye fishing with the natural lakes of Minnesota or Canada, but Lake Cumberland and Nolin Lake have walleyes. Another fish associated with the far north woods is the muskellunge. But this fish, like the walleye, is native to Kentucky's streams, and angling opportunities have been enhanced greatly through stocking programs developed by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Cave Run Lake, near Morehead in eastern Kentucky, has a muskie catch rate that rivals any in the nation. The largest muskie on record, caught from Dale Hollow Lake, was 43 pounds.

The department also is stocking hybrid tiger muskies—hatchery-produced results of crossing muskellunge and northern pike. Tiger muskies readily strike artificial lures and are much more accessible to anglers than the muskies.

Another species normally associated with northern waters is the rainbow trout. Cool, clear mountain streams in the eastern mountains and the spring-fed creeks in central and western Kentucky are capable of supporting trout year-round. The species most closely associated with southern freshwater angling is the largemouth bass. Kentucky has 17 reservoirs stocked with bass. But the last two state records (13 pounds, 8 ounces and 13 pounds, 10 ounces) have come from smaller bodies of water, underscoring the fact that lunker largemouth can be caught just about anywhere in Kentucky.

Two other black bass species inhabit Kentucky: the smallmouth bass and the Kentucky bass, or spotted bass. These, near relatives to the largemouth, also inhabit lakes, and smallmouths are the favorite quarry of most of the state's stream fishermen.

Peninsula graced by wonder

The peninsula between the Kentucky and Barkley lakes is an unspoiled area with a rich history.

Land Between the Lakes — a 170,000-acre environmental, education and outdoor recreation complex — has been under development by Tennessee Valley Authority since 1964. Here, wildlife and natural resources are successfully managed. There are rustic campgrounds, trails and boat ramps.

No commercial facilities of any kind are found within the boundaries of this area of heavily forested terrain, with its 300 miles of unspoiled shoreline bordering Kentucky and Barkley lakes.

Commercial facilities, however, are within a half-hour drive from the area's four main entrances, and private resorts, motels and marinas line the opposite shore. Three of Kentucky's most outstanding state parks are located near entrances to the recreation area.

Early settlers found Land Between the Lakes unsuitable for large-scale farming and iron furnaces sprang up in the late 18th century, capitalizing on the low-grade iron ore prevalent and abundant trees used to make charcoal that stoked the furnaces. Eventually, competition from other iron-producing areas made ore operations "between the rivers" less profitable, and the furnaces, once white-hot fires cooled, abandoned as relics of a former era. Remnants of these furnaces and evidences of a few abandoned homesteads are found in remote areas of the recreation area.

Abandoned logging roads and fire-access lanes today serve as trails for hikers and backpackers. Outdoor enthusiasts will find more than 200 miles of developed hiking trails at Land Between the Lakes, some suitable for biking, horseback riding and handicapped use.

The 60-mile North-South Trail runs the 40-mile length of the peninsula. The trails originate in the 5,000-acre Environmental Education Area where visitors can observe and learn about wildlife in a natural habitat. Woodlands Nature Center, focus of activities here, features a multimedia theater and exhibits on natural history and resource management.

At the center, visitors can learn about the recreation area's "eagle hatching" in which young bald eagles are encouraged to return to the area through artificial nesting. As in most places in the United States, for the past two decades, bald eagles—the national symbol—rarely have been seen in the Kentucky area.

Levinson went home for 'Tin Men'

By Harry Hamm

LOS ANGELES — Director Barry Levinson is noted as being an artist skilled in doing "relationship" films, especially those where the central characters are men. Levinson's films as a director include the current offering, Tin Men, as well as The Natural, Young Sherlock Holmes and Diner.

After graduating from the American University in Washington, D.C., with a degree in broadcast journalism, the Baltimore native moved to Los Angeles where he studied acting and became part of a comedy duo with his friend, actor Craig T. Nelson.

This association led to many comedy writing assignments for television and an eventual creative partnership with Mel Brooks. Levinson collaborated on several of Brooks' films, including Silent Movie and High Anxiety. Levinson also co-authored, with Valerie Curtin, the screenplay for And Justice For All and Inside Moves.

Diner was Levinson's first film as a director and it was received with such critical acclaim that it thrust on him a developing reputation as one of Hollywood's most respected new talents.

Levinson's roots in Baltimore were evident in his film Diner. The young men who populated the fabled neon eatery in the film were based on Levinson's experiences and association's as a young adult. With the advent of his new film, Tin Men, Levinson has moved across the aisle of the Hilltop diner to examine another group of authentic characters from Baltimore, aluminum siding salesmen, or "tin men" as they liked to be called.

"Having known a number of the tin men, and my father having spent a little time in the business, there was a fair amount of research into the seams and tactics that used to take place back in 1963," Levinson said. "However, the tactics no longer apply and that's part of one of the themes of the film. The Home Improvement Commission that began in the early '60s took care of that problem once and for all."

It is not an accident that Tin Men is set in Baltimore, Levinson said. "I'd always wanted, at some point, to continue what I'd consider a Baltimore story," Levinson said. "The tin men sat on the left side of the diner. The characters from the movie Diner always sat on the right hand side.

'TIN MEN': Barry Levinson, director of 'Tin Men', discusses a scene with actor Richard Dreyfuss.

"I felt since I had examined one side of the diner I should look at the other side. The tin men were a type of Damon Runyonesque figures, great livers and exciting, kind of fun characters. They lived the good life as they perceived it."

The decision to go forward on a movie project, the commitments needed to proceed, are usually very difficult to obtain. In some cases it takes years before anyone will give the green light for a new movie project. But Tin Men was an exception.

"The studio (Disney's Touchstone Pictures) literally read the script on a Friday and said OK to the movie on a Monday without any preconditions about who, in fact, would be in it, or any other conditions," Levinson said. "They said, 'We like what this is and we want to make this movie period.'"

"That's the best situation that you can ask for, not having any pressures to fit a studio's formula."

Tin Men cost $12 million. But even for that much money, the production designers looked long and hard before finding the type of old frame house for a scene that demonstrates a ruse used by tin men.

"The house used in the scene about the 'Life magazine scam' was actually the house I grew up in," said Levinson. "By a fluke of circumstance, we couldn't find a location that was workable so we sent the production designers over and they said it would work."

"It was rather a bizarre situation for me to have left Baltimore in 1963 and to be sitting on the front porch of my old house in 1986, looking out and seeing all the cars from the early '60s. It was almost as if I had jumped around in time."

As a director, Levinson seems drawn toward films that are at the same time comedic and dramatic, with an emphasis on the latter. That's because he knows that comedies do not always get the praise they deserve.

"When comedy works well it seems very easy and it seems so effortless that people think anybody can do it," Levinson said. "Perhaps that's why Cary Grant never got the recognition he deserved in his time."

Tin Men stars Richard Dreyfuss, Danny DeVito and Barbara Hershey. It is rated R for language and one very innocent romantic situation involving Hershey and Dreyfuss. Regardless of the disclaimers and the fact that it does represent a time and practices that no longer exist, I doubt anyone in the field of selling aluminum siding will feel it is good for business.

But business at the box office should be great for Tin Men, and that's no scam. Trust me.

Senior-dominated Warriors open Saturday

By Dave Whaley

Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — It's the end of March, the weather is beginning to moderate, and major league baseball teams are spilling out spring training in Florida and Arizona.

That can only mean one thing. The high school baseball season is just around the corner.

It's only two days around the corner, in fact, for the Granite City Warriors. Bob Stegemeier begins his 14th season at the helm in a noon doubleheader Saturday at Varsity Field against Washington, Ill.

As usual, the month of March has been a tough one for trying to get ready for the season.

"We've been fighting through the weather," Stegemeier said. "It was bad, then it got nicer for a while, and the infield still isn't packed down as much as I would like it. But we have been outside, and I hope we're about ready."

They should be ready. Granite City won't exactly be fielding a bunch of inexperienced kids. In fact, there is a good chance Stegemeier's starting nine for much of the year could be 100 percent seniors.

This club has some potential because we have some experience," Stegemeier said. "I'm fairly optimistic going into the season."

The Warriors will be counting on three senior righthanders to head up the pitching staff. Scott LeVault was 6-0 last year with a 2.61 earned run average. Darin Hendrickson was 1-0 at the varsity level with a 2.48 ERA, and Mike Georgoff was 3-0. His ERA was 6.71, but most of those runs came in the early part of the season.

"Mike was pitching much better at the end of the year," Stegemeier said. "He had more velocity on his pitches. Darin progressed pretty well and had a real good summer, and LeVault was probably our best pitcher at the end of the year."

Other pitchers should be junior righthanders John Moad, Mike Krausz and lefty Jim Stout, and 6-4 sophomore left-handed Mark Bergamo.

"Krausz looks to be throwing good this spring," Stegemeier said. "He could be a short reliever at the start of the year. Moad and Stout both have shown enough ability to work with. And although Bergamo's a sophomore, he shows a lot of poise on the mound.

Stegemeier doesn't seem worried about having a mostly-right-handed staff.

"It doesn't matter that much at the high school level," he said. "Most teams have a set lineup they won't switch around. And if our guys throw strikes and keep the ball down, we'll be all right, because we should be pretty good defensively."

Bamber has a backup last season and has been stronger defensively, but Stegemeier said he was swinging the bat better this year. Junior Craig Dippel will be the backup catcher.

LeVault and Moad will share duties at first base.

"They are both very adequate defensively," Stegemeier said. "LeVault hit with some power for us and John is a good contact hitter. I expect him to hit varsity pitching."

Senior Jamie Hogan was an all-Southwestern Conference second baseman last year with a .402 average, 21 RBI and 21 steals. Hinterser, an all-conference shortstop and one of the best high school hockey players in the area, hit .322 with 32 RBI in 32 games, including the game-winning RBI against East St. Louis in a big SWC game at Varsity field.

Patterson had a great summer both offensively and defensively with the Granite City Optimists.

"He has good hands and has hit the ball well," Stegemeier said. "And I coached his three brothers, so I have an idea of how well Tim can do."

Backups in the infield will be senior Charlie Collins, another star for the Optimists last summer, junior Jeff Grote and junior Chris Hampsey. Collins could also serve as a designated hitter.

Adamitis, who hit .341 last season, should be able to get the ball in left field.

Todd is a very good runner," Stegemeier said. "He stole home to win a game against Danville in the round robin tournament last year."

In center field will be the leader of the Warriors' gang of thieves — base-stealing thieves, that is. Tim Hogan was a perfect 37 for 37 on the basepaths.

"Timmy's an outstanding center fielder," Stegemeier said of the senior who hit .338 with 18 RBI last year. "He doesn't hit for power, but when he gets on, it's like a double or triple the way he can steal bases."

Rich Wilson will be the right fielder. He has the best arm among the outfielders and was used mainly as a defensive replacement last season. He had only 26 at-bats in 25 games.

Juniors Randy Chapman and Jason Smith will back up in the outfield, and Smith could also catch.

"We should hit the ball well this year with four of our six leading hitters coming back," Stegemeier said. The Hogan, Adamitis and Hinterser joined Matt Roe and Jim Chomko at the top of the list in 1986. Roe hit .310.

Running Warriors could have fun

After a long winter inside of dark, sweaty gymnasiums, it's time to get outside and enjoy some good baseball action.

It was certainly a rewarding winter, with Venice and East St. Louis Lincoln bringing home state basketball titles. And the wrestling and hockey seasons were exciting, too.

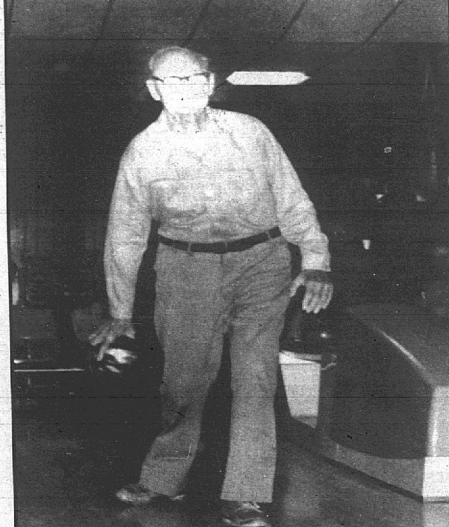

But it's time to get a taste of the fresh air. Sometimes the air is a little fresher and colder — than we might like it for the first few games, but the baseball Warriors could heat things up this season. As the season draws near, Granite City could become a team that mirrors — at least in style — the big boys from across the river.

The Cardinals have run the National League to death the past few years and have been one of only two teams in the senior circuit to win more than one pennant in this decade. In that time, Whitey Herzog's gang has hit the fewest home runs, but they have stolen the most bases.

Look for a similar team in Granite City this spring. Although losing good hitters like Matt Roe, Jim Chomko and Steve Davis from last season, Bob Stegemeier has added even more speed to a lineup that set a school record with 153 stolen bases in 1986. Their success rate of 91 percent borders on the incredible.

Of course, it's nothing compared with the success rate of center fielder Tim Hogan. Granite City's three-sport all-conference star tried to steal 37 bases last year. He was successful 37 times. Eat your heart out, Vince Coleman.

There are plenty of other good pairs of legs. Jamie Hogan, Todd Hinterser, Todd Adamitis, Rich Wilson, Jeff Grote, Charlie Collins and even catcher Dave Bamber figure to bring in the fun on the basepaths. Although catchers are usually noted for things other than stealing bases, Bamber stole four in one game last summer for the Granite City

Spraggins building up Trojan pitching staff

By Gary King

Correspondent

MADISON — Trojan baseball coach Marcus Spraggins threw his first pitch of the season Tuesday when asked what it would take for his team to top last year's grueling 3-17 campaign.

"We're really trying to build our pitching," Spraggins said. "That's been one of our big problems over the years. If we can do that, I think we can at least be competitive in some games this season."

With any luck at all, Spraggins verbal pitch will prove as accurate as the physical tosses his hurlers will be unleashing starting next Tuesday, when Madison opens its season with a 4 p.m. home contest against DuPont.

With pitching resting at the heart of Spraggins' pre-season concerns, the Trojans have expanded what was basically a two-man staff last season into a full-fledged four-man rotation this spring.

Spraggins thinks the added depth on the corps will prove a workable solution to the problem of erratic control, which served as both the shovel and coffin of the team's problems last year.

"We had a problem with the guys just running out of steam last year," the second-year Trojan coach said. "So we've made it a point to do a lot of running this spring. We also think that going with a rotation of four starters and a couple of guys out of the bullpen will help us."

One-half of last year's pitching staff, senior Lester Buckels, returns this year and is expected to emerge as a leader on the otherwise inexperienced corps. As a junior, Buckels was forced to start most of the Trojans' games last year. Spraggins hopes the experience Buckels picked up last season will give him an edge this year.

Joining Buckels as potential starters are Andre Mosby, senior Carlos Briggs and sophomore Levell Garrett. Of the trio, only Mosby saw any considerable action last season. This year will be his first on the baseball diamond.

Antonio Wellmaker, Spraggins said Spivey could also see some action in right field when he's not behind the plate.
"Spivey will be in there most of the time, because he's one of our better hitters this year," Spraggins said. "He'll almost have to be out there somewhere."

The Trojan coach said he expects to start sophomore Terry Jackson at first base, Briggs at second, junior Quincy Williams at shortstop and Robbie Poston at third next Tuesday against Dupu. But he added that "nothing is locked up just yet."

Senior Bennie Milton is slated to assume the starting job in left field, while sophomore Garrett and senior Derek Treadway should see action in center and right field, respectively.

Spraggins said he was hesitant to offer a forecast on what the season holds in store for his squad, but the main goal will still be improvement.

"I don't really want to make a commitment on what kind of season we're going to have yet," Spraggins said. "I'd like to be optimistic and say 'yeah, we're going to have a great year,' but I'm just hoping we can hang in a few games and come away with some wins."

Phillip, 1940 team honored at dinner

The 900-plus sports fans who will attend the first annual Granite City Sports Hall of Fame dinner May 6 at the Knights of Columbus Hall will be privileged to see a film clip of one of the town's most celebrated and top athletic achievements, the championship game in March 1940 when the Warrior cagers won the state championship.

Led by Andy Phillip and his sidekick, Andy Hagopian, the Warrior cagers defeated an outstanding Herrin team in the finals, 24-22, the tightest and lowest-scoring game ever played in the finals.

What makes the clip so relevant is that four of the 56 athletes that will be honored May 6 were connected with that team.

First is the Warriors' coach at the time, Byron Bozarth. Leonard Davis, the long-time (five terms) mayor of Granite City, was Bozarth's assistant coach. He once made 96 free throws in a row, blindfolded.

Davis, however, was elected by the 23-man Hall of Fame committee for his own starring roles in other sports, primarily football, although he was an outstanding dash man.

Another Hall of Famer, Harold Brown, who turned in a brilliant job as executive director of the Granite City Park District, was the equipment manager. He now lives in Ocala, Fla., where he keeps busy arranging bus trips to spring training games. But he plans to be at the dinner.

The fourth member of the 1940 team was a guy who really made it big, our own Andy Phillip, who will fly from his home in California for the big dinner. His brother John still lives in Granite City.

You could write a book the length of "Gone With the Wind" about Phillip. After graduating from Granite City High School, he enrolled at the University of

Sports of All Sorts

By Al Barnes

Illinois, where his play made him one of the Fighting Illini basketball immortals as a member of the Whiz Kids. After his junior year, he joined the Marines.

At the end of World War II, Phillip returned to school at Champaign and rejoined the ranks of the Whiz Kids and led them to the Big Nine crown. Phillips' co-members on that famous five were Gene Vance, Art Mathieson, Jack Smiley and Ken Menke.

At Andy's graduation from Illinois, he signed a pro basketball contract, but also gave baseball — his first love — a try. A better than average hurler, he was also a standout first baseman, and after signing with the Cardinals, he battled his way up to the Class AAA Columbus team.

He played pro basketball with the Chicago Stags of the old Basketball Association of America from 1947-1950. After that franchise folded, the BAA merged with the National Basketball League to form the NBA.

After stints with the Fort Wayne Pistons, who later moved to Detroit, he was a backup to Bob Cousy with Red Auerbach's great Boston Celtic team. He also tried his hand at coaching the St. Louis Hawks in 1960.

Phillip was inducted into the National Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., last year.

Tickets to the Hall of Fame dinner are still available.

Warriors

"And the kids we lost from last year (Chomko, Roe and Steve Davis) are being replaced by some guys who are a little quicker," Stegemeier said. "So we should be just as good running this season."

Stegemeier sees a balanced conference in 1987.

"Belleville West has some good players coming up and Belleville East is always good," he said. "East St. Louis has a lot of kids back and Collinsville should be better. Altogether, we had some down years, but they have a good program and should be better."

The Warriors ended last season as tri-champions of the SWC with East St. Louis and Belleville East. They all had 8-2 league marks. Granite City was 22-13 overall after a 10-10 start.

"I would hate to pick a favorite in the conference," Stegemeier said, although he leaned towards Belleville East. "It's tough to win consistently because there's not a bad coach in the conference. It's tough to be dominant."

Stegemeier enters his 14th season with an overall record of 202-155-3.

Optimists.

While the Warriors drive their opponents crazy with speed, they will also have some thump in the lineup. Hinterser is a very aggressive hitter, while Scott LeVault and Tim Patterson figure to take up the power slack left by the departures of Chomko and Davis. And Collins, who will be a backup infielder and a designated hitter, could surprise some people. He has been a hitting star in the summer leagues the past two years.

All in all, the Warriors look like a team with the ability to score some runs, and Stegemeier seems pleased with the defense. So it all comes down to pitching, as always. LeVault was 5-0 last season and had a good summer as well. Darin Hendrickson was another who came on strong in the summer.

Coupled with Mike Georgeff, Mike Krausz, John Moad, Jim Stout and Mark Begando, there is some ability there. Moad, by the way, has the chance to be a very good hitter as well.

There is talent here, and if the Warriors can avoid losing to their nemesis, East St. Louis, in the regionals again, they could have some fun.
